The Pink Panther

Henry Mancini

Scored for 3 mandolins, guitar

Henry Mancini composed his theme for The Pink Panther when the first film starring Peter Sellers was released in 1963. It has subsequently appeared in other films in the franchise, as well as television shows and animated cartoons.

The guitar plays the famous chromatic ascent/descent in the intro. While that's going on the rest of the band should be snapping their fingers on the off-beats. Key change at measure 206; and then back again at 137.
